

MASS. REPUBLICAN. PUBLISHED BY HANSEN & MOORE, Publishers, DECATUR, ILLINOIS.
Entered as Second-Class Matter October 10, 1881.
TUESDAY EVENING, OCT. 3, 1881.

Two grand juries at Washington began their inquiry yesterday into the case of Guiteau, and an indictment will probably be reached to day.

Two mourning drapery in New York has nearly all been taken down, and today carts are collecting such of it as may be made useful to the Michigan sufferers.

Two Chicago markets yesterday were excited and active. Wheat advanced from 2 to 3 cents, and corn from 1 to 1 1/2 cents. Hog products were also stronger and higher.

His High Mightiness, King "Calico" of the Sandwich Islands, is at Lexington, Ky., buying blooded horses and attacking the seductive sour-mash in its native jungles.

It is alleged by the Philadelphia Press that if General Arthur had not been nominated for vice president at Chicago, he, instead of Tom Platt, would have been elected United States senator by the New York legislature in Kerman's place—that Conkling and Governor Cornell had so agreed. The same paper says Arthur was at first decidedly averse to the vice presidency, because he preferred the senate.

Our neighbor of the Review, taking his cue from that personification of demagoguery, the Bloomington Bulletin, attributes the outbreak of Saturday night in our sister city to the fact that McLean county is "curved with a net of corrupt or incompetent officials." It so happens that McLean is a Republican county; if its officials were Democrats the Bulletin and its echo, the Review, would not be slow in finding some other cause for the lynching of Pierce. The immediate cause of the outbreak which led to the hanging of Saturday night was the popular excitement produced by the reversal of the Devine case by the supreme court. Devine had been pursued and captured, after the expenditure of much money and effort, by the "corrupt and incompetent officials" of McLean county—who are Republicans. He was tried and convicted in DeWitt county before Judge Barr—a Democrat—who signed the bill of exceptions that contained a false record of the evidence, upon which the supreme court reversed and remanded the case. It might be interesting to the Bulletin and its echo, the Review, to remind them of the fact that of the seven judges of the supreme court, five are Democrats, and that these are the gentlemen who had the last word in the Devine case. The Republican officials of McLean county were successful in accomplishing everything that it was possible for them to do in the Devine case. They caught the murderer and secured his conviction. It remained for a Democratic circuit judge to certify to what was not true in the record, so that a Democratic supreme court might have a quibble upon which to reverse the case and give a red-headed murderer another chance to escape punishment. If these scribbling demagogues want to give the Bloomington not a partisan complexion, let them tell both sides of the story.

The Nashville American says that President Garfield's association is the first national event which has called forth from the women of the south a wide and profound sympathy. This, it says, is a sign of restoration worth all the rest.

It is announced that Miss Anna E. Dickinson will positively make her debut as a tragedienne in New York, on January 24. She will appear to male characters, first as Hamlet, and subsequently as Macbeth. She will appear in Chicago some time during the winter.

BAMMY winked knowingly, looked across the water, and said, "Look out, boys, for 1884," and shortly afterward the "licker" announced that Confederate bonds were selling in London at from 3 1/2 to 4 per cent.—Patria Transcript.

Pure Grape Wine. The President and a committee from the Farmers' Club, of the American Institute, have visited the vineyards and wine cellars, and they report that the Pure Grape Wine of Alfred Speer, of Painesville, New Jersey, is the most reliable wine to be obtained. It is now being used by physicians as the best choice in the selection of wines for convalescent patients. The principal hospitals in New York have adopted this wine. Its superiority is supposed to arise from the fact that it is made from the purest grapes in the soil. The vineyards are on a brown stone shale rock. For sale by W. O. Amesbury.

A sure cure for consumption, bronchitis, cough, sore lungs, whooping-cough and all complaints of the throat, lungs or chest. We mean Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup.

MAISON, ILL., Oct. 3, 1881. Eds. REPUBLICAN:—I notice in Saturday's daily the reverend gentleman thinks somebody has been "prevaricated"; well, perhaps this is so, but we do not admire the "you're another" style of discussing matters. Don't think there is much dignity in it, to say the least. The words quoted in your editorial a few days since are correct, as told to your correspondent by quite a number who were present and heard the discourse. In addition to this, a transient gentleman stopping over Sabbath had this part of the discourse repeated to him only a few minutes after church services, and the reverend admitted to him that he not only said it but those were his sentiments. A friend of the reverend's who was not present when the discourse was delivered interrogated him on the subject, and this party says he admitted that he used (in substance) the language quoted.

A lady member of his church reading the editorial in question without knowing there was any division of opinion as to its correctness, and without any interrogation, remarked that that was the language used.

To-day the reverend gentleman in hearing distance of your correspondent denied using the language. To prove his position he said he could produce his manuscript which was his address verbatim. But when closely pressed on this point he admitted that he used language not contained in the manuscript, and that the manuscript was simply the outline of each particular heading. The facts are that he did not say all the manuscript contained, neither did the manuscript contain all he said, so that this article would prove nothing.

We have no quarrel with the individual, but we do detest the sentiment. We omitted names because we were fighting an idea, and ideas sometimes live long after the individual is dead.

Good Words For Arthur

The Boston Transcript, a very able paper, says:

President Arthur's address bears marks of a sincere purpose to meet the national wish, and carry out the policy of his predecessor. His recognition of the sorrowful circumstances under which he assumes the presidency is full and without apparent self-reservation. His platform will ally all suspicions of violent changes. He wisely asserts that the country will welcome repose. He declares, under the most solemn conditions, that no backward step, calculated to open old controversies, will be taken in conducting the affairs of government, while his course as head of the nation shall promote economy and the correction of remaining abuses. A conspicuous good taste pervades the whole production, which will have more effect in soothing and satisfying the public mind than though it had been profuse in expression capable of being explained as merely conventional utterances put forward to compass a temporary end. The address will be a revelation to those who supposed Mr. Arthur to possess feeble intellectual qualities. It strikes the reader at once as not the creation of an individual who acknowledges any man his master, or proposes an administration controlled by faction. Its independent, manly, sympathetic tone, no less than its calm and emphatic sentences, which convey clear and definite assurances, will create a most favorable impression throughout the country. President Arthur starts his administration in the right spirit. He will have the hearty support of the people, irrespective of party, if he faithfully executes his determination announced in the face of the world under the most impressive circumstances.

MORE GOOD NEWS.

A Fine Display of New Goods at Bear & Einstein's Fashion Emporium.

While passing No. 128 East Main street, this forenoon, the attention of our reporter was attracted to a magnificent display of new and fashionable Millinery Goods, Notions, Novelties, etc., on sale at Bear & Einstein's popular emporium of fashion. The new millinery goods have just been received, and it's no wonder that the ladies flock to the store to inspect and buy. In addition to the regular goods, the firm has a full line of German-made Yarns and Zephyrs, Ladies' Underwear, Hosiery, Children's Cloaks and Hoods, Union Suits for children, and many other varieties, besides innumerable novelties in the millinery line that must be seen to be appreciated. The ladies of the firm specially desire all their lady friends to give them an early call. No trouble whatever to show goods. Miss McAllister, late of Chicago, who is one of the very best trimmers in the West, is in the employ of Bear & Einstein. Remember the place, No. 25 East Main street. Sept. 28—dwt

Don't forget that W. L. Ferguson has the largest stock of cooking and heating stoves in the city. His business has increased to such an extent that he has been compelled to rent the building formerly occupied by J. E. Kinney as a coal office. Also, in connection with his large stock of new stoves he has a good assortment of second hand cooking and heating stoves, which are being sold at very low prices. What the Papers Say About It. The event of Saturday night is a terrible lesson to our courts, our law-makers and to those sentimental sympathizers with crime who sign petitions for pardon, sit on juries and defeat righteous verdicts, and create a morbid commiseration for red handed villains in the public mind. The deed is the direct result of the Devine decision, and a large share of the responsibility falls on the shoulders of the supreme court, or if not on them, on the heads of the weak framers of the weak and imperfect and self defeating criminal laws, which make such rulings possible.—Bloomington Leader.

The lesson is a plain one. The courts must deal more promptly and vigorously with murderers and other great criminals. There must be less money flogging by sharp lawyers to get off guilty scoundrels by means of the loopholes and technicalities of the law. If the laws are weak or defective, they must be strengthened—must be on the side of public protection rather than on the side of the criminal. Conviction of crime ought to be followed by severe and sure penalties, promptly executed.—Chicago Journal.

It has come to be almost impossible to punish capital murderers by law. The vicious classes have taken justice, and give free vent to their felonious passions. The public mind has become outraged. It feels the necessity of better protection for human life. It is not in Bloomington only but in other cities in Illinois where the same feeling prevails. That the murderers in the Chicago jail have snuffed something of this kind is proved by the unusual number of men who have recently pleaded guilty to murder, preferring to throw themselves upon the mercy of the courts rather than take the chances of further arousing public indignation by a trial. There is too much law quibbling and too little justice for murderers in this state. The responsibility for mobs and lynchings rests upon the courts and lawyers.—Chicago Tribune.

But the whole act is simply an indication that the public is disgusted with the machinery of the courts. It gives our executives a hint that they will do well to remember and heed. The public safety and welfare have been forgotten in an eager desire to enable some lawyers to make a reputation. There's such a thing as saving the law's delay to shelter rogues, instead of protecting the public. The query now arises, is when a man commits a crime, "How much money has he got?" instead of "Is he guilty?" The result is seen in such disgraceful mobs as the one in Bloomington, last Saturday night. If the people there had been convinced that the man Pierce would have received justice, even if tardily administered, they would have been contented to let the law take its course. They felt that there was no security in the law, and that everything would be sacrificed to allow some two-penny lawyer to make a reputation. In order to secure protection, they hung the man. The courts are in fault, and not the people. It is the courts and lawyers that have broken down in the minds of the people, respect for law and precedent. They should be the ones arraigned and brought to the bar of public opinion.—Patria Journal.

The proposition of the trustees of Williams college to establish a memorial scholarship in honor of the late President deserves the cordial and instant support of the friends of that institution. It is well known that the affections of Gen. Garfield were very deeply interested in the history and welfare of the college. It had done much for him, and he recognized its claims upon him in the most substantial manner by sending his own sons to be educated there. He was one of its trustees, and was on his way to attend its commencement exercises when he was shot down. Nothing could be more gratifying to him, after the making of due provision for the wants of his family, than the connection of his name in an honorable way with this ancient seat of learning. There would be a special propriety, too, in the endowment, as he was one of the few college men who kept up the habits of a scholar in mature life, and taught by precept and example before he ceased to learn. Contributions from outside friends of Gen. Garfield to this worthy object will no doubt be gratefully received, but the graduates of the college must understand that the burden of completing the endowment rests upon them. So many other memorials have been proposed and undertaken that it is feared this one may be neglected. Yet there is a fitness in it which scarcely any one of the others can be said to possess. No monument will be more durable or appropriate than a memorial professorship in the institution which did so much to prepare Mr. Garfield for his illustrious career.

The surgeons of the late president publish a detailed report of the post mortem examination and its results in a Philadelphia medical journal. It is probably edifying reading for members of the medical fraternity, but owing to the profuse employment of professional terms and technicalities, the lay reader might as well try to decipher the hieroglyphics on Cleopatra's Needle as to try to understand the statements of the doctors. It may be observed, however, that, in the general conclusions, this detailed report does not differ from the official report of the autopsy given to the public by the surgeons immediately after their examination of the body.—Chicago Journal.

WEED ON ARTHUR.

The President's Mission to New York.

The Washington Grand Jury.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—On the meeting of the criminal court this morning, District Attorney Corkhill stated that it had been rumored that it was the purpose of the counsel for the defendants to move to quash the information filed in the star route matter. He presumed that before anything could be done, it would be necessary for the parties against whom the information had been filed to appear in court, but he nevertheless asked that before motion was heard by the court, two days' notice of the fact be given to the counsel for the government. The order asked for was granted.

A call has been issued for a caucus of Republican senators, to meet next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, to devise a plan of action for the organization of the senate.

The Democratic caucus will probably meet at the same hour, and no doubt some effort to effect a compromise organization between both parties will be made. Most of the Democratic senators, who now openly declare against any compromise, and hold that, under law and custom, the organization of the senate is within Democratic control. There are said to be several Democrats, however, who quietly prefer to make some agreement with Republicans in advance, if that can be accomplished. Pendleton and Garland have been mentioned as holding these views, but when approached, they say they have not authorized any statements of their opinions, and that they will await their party caucus and expect to abide by it. Senators of both parties are desirous of avoiding any issue over the organization that will lead to a partisan contest, but it is not improbable it may occur, nevertheless. The president of the senate will be so close to the presidency of the United States—only one life intervening—that both Republicans and Democrats are anxious to possess that office for their respective party, and feel that it is worth a struggle.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The writer of a letter said to contain threats of assassination against ex-Senator Conkling has been discovered and interviewed by a representative of the Observer, of this city. He is Henry J. Rowley, of the second ward, Utica, who has been a Republican speaker, and who offered a strong Garfield sympathy resolution at the late ward caucus, which received two votes only, a more moderate resolution, offered by a stalwart, being adopted as well. Rowley has no particular occupation, but says he formerly kept a hotel at Canastota, where he employed D. H. Johnson (not Jackson), now of No. 18 South street, New York, to whom the letter was written. Rowley admits that the letter contained an expression of hope that somebody would put a bullet through Conkling if he attempted to enter the Republican state convention. A dispatch has been sent to Police Commissioner Mason, on behalf of Rowley, authorizing him to make the letter public.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The grand jury met to day with a full attendance, and immediately proceeded to the consideration of the case of Charles J. Guiteau, charged with murdering James A. Garfield, president of the United States. The witnesses heard were Surgeon General Barnes, who testified as to the wound, and Officer Adams, who was on duty at the Baltimore and Potomac depot at the time the fatal shot was fired. Dr. Lamb, who conducted the autopsy, was also given a hearing, but before the testimony was concluded the jury adjourned until to-morrow. District Attorney Corkhill is busy drawing up the indictment, but has not, as yet, concluded the labor, and it is doubtful whether the grand jury can complete their work in time to present the indictment against Guiteau to-morrow.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Among the callers on President Arthur this forenoon were Senator Saunders, of Nebraska, General Sharpe and Postmaster Pearson. A man named Wilkins, evidently a "crank," called, but was not admitted. He had a long document containing large numbers of signatures, and was looking for a foreign consulship. He said the document was a letter from Governor Jewell, and was signed by the most prominent men in the country.

TOPEKA, KAN., Oct. 3.—Special reports from all parts of the Arkansas valley for the week are to the effect that wheat sowing is going on rapidly and successfully. The rains came so late that the wheat will not get so early but put in late. The early sown wheat looks well, and it is a notable fact that wheat sprouts much quicker this year than in years past. Farmers think the outlook for this crop is good.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Oct. 3.—The governor this evening issued his proclamation offering a reward of $500 for the arrest of the notorious Williams brothers, who killed the sheriff of Calhoun county about a week ago. These desperadoes are represented to be at large in Calhoun county, not having ventured to pass beyond the borders since the killing of the sheriff. They seem to have completely terrorized the officers of both Pike and Calhoun counties.

"Do you know, Mr. Weed, that President Arthur has used his influence to promote harmony in this convention?"

"I do. He has exerted a strong influence, and it has had its effect."

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., Oct. 3.—The jury to consider the case of Charles Pierce, alias Howlett, lynched by a mob, returned the following verdict: "In the matter of investigation on the body of Charles Pierce, we, the undersigned jurors, on oath, do find that he came to his death by hanging, at the hands of a mob, the members of which are unknown to the jury, who broke open the county jail and took him from the custody of the officers thereof and hanged him on the night of the 1st of October, 1880, between 8 and 10 o'clock p. m."

Jealousy. Some poet has said that "All torments of the damned we find in only thee, Oh Jealousy, thy tyrant of the mind." This is grandly sweeping and magnificently inaccurate. Any sufferer from indigestion knows to the contrary. Indigestion, the villain of the tragedy played among the gastric juices of the stomach can, and does double discount the horrors of jealousy. Jealousy is often an attendant upon the latter, and when indigestion is removed this jaundiced companion of a deranged liver flies. TARAXACUM is the best known remedy extant for impaired digestion, deranged liver, and diseases of the bowels and kidneys. Dr. A. J. STONER, Agent. [Jul28 dwt]

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

The following statement of William J. Conkling, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we feel bound to call the attention of our readers: He says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1879 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. I depended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone that at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the last three years."

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that everyone afflicted with Disordered Lungs will be induced to take DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness. My cough has almost entirely disappeared and I shall soon be able to go to work. Sold by all druggists. 29 dwt

CONSTIPATION is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents. 29

THE Lincoln Herald states that the long predicted advance in the price of farm lands has recently been in progress. Sales of farms have recently been made in Logan county at $40 and $50 per acre, when $30 or $40 would have been considered a good price three years ago or less. That they are destined to go still higher does not admit of a doubt, and the same advance in farming land in Macomb county has long since taken place. City property is also valued higher here.

D. & S. will give a grand excursion to Cincinnati, Ohio, for the benefit of those desiring to attend the closing of the Industrial Exposition, tickets being on sale at all stations. The round trip fare from Decatur will be $3.75. Trains will leave at 12:15 p. m. and 11 p. m. Tickets will be good to return on leaving Cincinnati at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 9th.

THIS morning the Mills Brothers, lawyers, received distressing news of a calamity which befel their brother Joseph Mills, who resides on his 180 acre farm near Magnolia, in Putnam county, this state, by which he lost property valued at $5,000. An engine room, a corn mill, a cattle barn 60 by 80 feet in size and containing 100 tons of hay, 1000 bushels of oats, $700 worth of horses, $75 worth of harness, etc., were all totally destroyed by fire. A three-year old colt was the only animal saved from the flames. Mr. Mills fell from a horse about 8 years ago, and injured his back so badly that he became paralyzed below his hips. He is worse off than Dr. Curtis, because he cannot move or lift his limbs. He has a wife and six children. His eldest son, Louis Mills, is a pupil at the Decatur high school. He says he does not think that any of the property destroyed was covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is a mystery, as the note received states that there had been no fire in the engine room since Saturday. The fire occurred on Sunday night.

NOTWITHSTANDING the mad and threatening rain of last evening a paying audience greeted the appearance of the Fifth Avenue Company at the opera house when "Needles and Pins," a rich four-act holiday comedy from the pen of Augustin Daly, was presented with immense success to the great delight of all present. No brief mention of "Needles and Pins" will do the play justice—it must be seen and heard to be appreciated. Such a happy and ridiculous combination of words and situations was never before presented in Decatur with better success. The troupe numbers 12 performers, and each is an artist. John Hart, the jolly comedian, was the central figure in the fun of the evening, and around him were gathered Miss Jessie Fremont, Miss Fisher, Miss Seymour, Miss Dempsey and others. Should the company ever visit Decatur again they will certainly draw a packed house if the weather is favorable.

THE alderman last night transacted the October business of the city while seated around a square table in Clerk Hardy's office, and it is said to have been one of the pleasantest sessions in the history of the council. There were no hot speeches, and everything that came up was disposed of with neatness and despatch. The next meeting of the aldermen will be held in the new council room in the second story of the John K. Miller building on North Main street. The furniture in the old chamber has been removed to the new location, and will be placed in position this week. New chairs for the mayor and city senators will be procured, as the old ones are not in keeping with the elegance of the new quarters.

ON or about December 1st an elegantly fitted up billiard hall and saloon will be opened in connection with the New Decker Hotel, of which Mr. George Keller, son-in-law of Mr. D. W. Breneman, will probably be the manager. He will occupy the room just north of the hotel office, and changes will be made that guests of the hotel may enter the saloon without going out on the pavement.

SOMEbody has sent his query-written note about an incident in connection with the late Methodist excursion over the Midland railroad, but as we seldom read in dark mysteries it's plain that we can't give place to the contribution, however barulose it may be. But that bouquet was a sweet note, and no mistake.

THE council last night ordered that a new wooden bridge 24 feet long, 16 feet wide and 9 feet high be built as soon as the weather will permit on Jefferson street, to span the branch which runs through the third ward. The bridge will be constructed under the direction of Superintendent Shorb and will cost about $300.

THE public generally and the members of the congregation in particular, are invited to attend the social and reception to be held in the lecture-room of the 1st M. E. church this evening, on which occasion the new pastor, Rev. J. P. Dimmitt, will be present.

THE state fair at Peoria was a financial success, all premiums having been paid in full, and the Transcript says there is a balance of $2,000 in the hands of the treasurer. This is doing pretty well for the first year, and Peoria ought to feel proud.

Let Jousting Riders Weep.
Mr. Fred S. Allen, of the Pontiac Sentinel, and secretary of the Illinois Press Association, has issued a circular to the members of that association, notifying them that the proposed excursion to the International Cotton Exposition at Atlanta, Ga., next month, has been abandoned, owing to the impossibility of securing the needed transportation for so large a company.

The council proceeded to business, Mayor Waggoner presiding.

Minutes of meetings held Sept. 5 and 12, 1891, read and approved.

A communication was received from Mr. David Martin in relation to exchanging a lot immediately east of the First Ward calaboo for the one occupied by said calaboo, said Martin to be at all expense of moving calaboo and making and recording the deeds. On motion the proposition was accepted and the Mayor and Clerk authorized to execute the deed.

Mr. F. W. Haines made application for a license for Smith's opera house by the year, which was referred to the ordinance committee.

A communication was received from Dr. F. May in relation to the fine assessed against him, which was read and placed on file.

Mrs. M. C. Fears made application for a permit to erect a frame dwelling on Lot 7, Block 2, Bandy's addition to Decatur, which was refused for the reason that it is contrary to ordinance.

Theo. Nelson, Treasurer, reported receipts and expenditures during month of Sept., which was read and referred to the finance com.

W. B. Shorb, Sept. of Streets, made a report of lumber received, expended and on hand. He also reported the amount of labor performed and boulders purchased. Report received and placed on file. The pay roll accompanying said report was approved and warrants ordered issued for labor $1,702.35; for boulders $24.50.

J. M. Lowry, D. O'Conley, T. B. Aherst and I. B. Curtis, J. P.'s, each made a report of police cases tried during September, 1891, which were read and placed on file.

City Attorneys made the following report, which was read and placed on file: To the Hon. Mayor and City Council:

Gentlemen: We have examined into the right of the city to land claimed by M. Phalen, being a part of Crea street. We find that M. Phalen deeded said land to George F. Wessels about 1877, and took from said Wessels a mortgage back to secure $500, other land being included in said mortgage. Wessels then laid out the land as a part of Crea street, since that land was laid out as part of Crea street Phalen has foreclosed his mortgage and obtained a deed from the Master in Chancery. We do not think the dedication by Wessels would vest a good title to the street in the city as against Phalen's mortgage.

H. B. OUTTEN & VAIL.

Ald. Buan presented a pay roll of city officers and employees which was approved and warrants ordered issued for the amount—$1,904.03.

Ward, $118.25, allowed $50.50; A. S. Cameron, $50; Mrs. Miller, $57.87, allowed $30.77. The special committee to whom was referred the communication of J. K. Warren, President of the Decatur Gas Light & Coke Co., made the following report which was concurred in:

To the Hon. Mayor and City Council of the City of Decatur:
Your committee to whom was referred the communication of J. K. Warren, President of the Decatur Gas Light & Coke Co., beg leave to report that having investigated the charges made thereon, the committee find that there is no equal right with the gas company to examine the meter or charge the burner, but that the gas company has the right without an agreement with the gas company, and that there was no ground for such complaint, and that Mr. Warren states that he has no intention of making any charges against the committee on gas and gas light, and has withdrawn the offensive expression, and proposes that if the city will procure uniform checks for all street lamps the gas company will pay one half of the cost, and your committee recommend that the check be purchased.

K. HAWKWOOD, Committee.

The claim of Decatur Gas Light & Coke Co. for the month of Sept. was referred to the committee on gas and gas light.

On motion of Ald. Harwood the above resolution was referred to the committee on public improvement with power to act. Ald. Harwood offered the following resolution, which was referred to committee on sidewalks and crossings.

On motion, the city attorneys were instructed to report as the liability of the company to pay any part of the expenses of taking care of small pox patients. On motion the council adjourned.

THEATRE NIGHT.
The handsome lithographs of the beautiful Miss Fay Templeton, who is to appear as "Bettina" in "La Mascotte" at the opera house Saturday evening, are very much admired, and the show-going public will have an opportunity of hearing her and Pyppo sing the Gobble song in all its freshness. The sale of seats for this attraction opened this morning. Said the Boston Journal:

"The revival of 'The Mascotte' by the Grayson Opera Company is a pleasant surprise, and a very successful one. The chief interest centered in the first appearance of Miss Fay Templeton in the character of 'Bettina.' Miss Templeton is a charming young artist, and she certainly made a decided hit in the part. With youth, beauty and a modest grace, she combined a rich contralto voice, a very good vocal style, and always a true intonation. She seems content to play the part after her own idea of it, rather than to copy any of the singers who have already appeared in the character here, and the result is certainly very pleasing. She won unmistakable marks of favor, and we predict that she will become very popular with a public that is not slow to appreciate and reward talent in this department of art."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. J. P. Winebrenner, of Chicago, is in the city to attend the meeting of the Eldership of the Church of God, and to visit his many friends. He paid us a friendly call this morning, and renewed his subscription to the REPUBLICAN, which he has read for many years, and whose visits he prizes greatly.

The Bloomington Mob.

The Bloomington Leader says the leaders in the affair on Saturday evening have passed the test of the coroner's inquest unscathed, and feel easy. It was not from lack of efficiency on the part of the coroner or jury, but the witnesses seemed to be conveniently near-sighted as a matter of wise policy. It is probable that the next grand jury will attempt to probe the matter. Patsy Devine has been removed to the Peoria jail for safety. He doesn't want to go to meet Pierce by the hemp route with Judge Lynch as conductor.

THE JURY'S VERDICT

In the Case of the Commercial Hotel Building—A Corpse from Tuscola.

In our issue of last evening we gave the particulars of the death of T. W. Irvin, of Troy, who ended his earthly troubles by taking a dose of laudanum. He died at about 8 p. m. on Monday, though Dr. Weigl made every effort in his power to save the man from the grave. Coroner Dineen was notified of the circumstance, and late in the evening the remains were removed to Peter Perle's undertaking establishment, where the inquest was held, the following named gentlemen serving as jurors: Thomas B. Albert, Peter Perle, J. B. Fielder, Chas. Drohn, J. T. Tuler and Henry Mitchell.

Three witnesses from the Commercial Hotel were before the jury, and their evidence corroborated the statements made in these columns last evening. They knew nothing of the circumstance, except that soon after 12 o'clock Irvin was found lying on the bed, breathing hard, with the pallor of death upon his face. It was shown that two bottles had been contained laudanum had been found near the bed on which Irvin died. He had but 10 cents in his pockets. His effects in the room were a valise, partly filled with clothing, and a heavy coat.

THE VERDICT.

In the matter of the inquisition on the body of T. W. Irvin, deceased, held at Decatur, Ill., on the 3d day of October, A. D. 1891, we the undersigned jurymen, sworn to inquire of the death of T. W. Irvin, on oath do find that he came to his death by the use of laudanum administered by his own hand on the night of the 23d of October, 1891, at the Commercial Hotel, Decatur, Macon county, Ill.

No one here appears to know anything about the deceased or his relatives.—Brodie & Kelly, at Troy, Ohio, were telegraphed the news of Irvin's death by Marshal Howes, but no answer had been received from the firm up to noon to-day.

LATEL.

This afternoon a message was received from Piqua, Ohio, reading as follows: "Buy a nest egg and express P. W. Irvin's body to Dayton, Ohio. I will pay all charges on arrival of remains."

MILTON MARKOW.

The body will be sent to Dayton to-night.

DIED SUDDENLY AT TUSCOLA.

At 6:30 o'clock on Sunday evening Edward Bullman, traveling salesman for J. E. Blackman & Co., wholesale tobacco and cigars, 32 Randolph street, Chicago, and who had been stopping at the Beach House at Tuscola since Friday last, was found dead in his bed. Bullman was a son-in-law of Frank Day, a general merchant at Oakley in this county, who is a brother-in-law of Officer Jas. Brewer, of this city. An inquest was held on the body of Bullman at Tuscola on Sunday night by acting coroner Harry Johnson, and a verdict returned that the cause of the death was unknown. It is supposed that Bullman died of heart disease. His age was about 63 years. Last night Mr. Johnson arrived in Decatur with the body of Bullman, and by the aid of a Kankakee reporter he succeeded in learning the place of residence of Mr. Day, to whom he telegraphed at once.

News was received from Mr. Day this forenoon. He will arrive here this afternoon from Oakley and take charge of Bullman's body, and Mr. Johnson, who is not only a justice of the peace, but is also business manager of the Tuscola Journal, will return to his home to-night.
